

BABY MIRROR

Visual exploration at its best!

This mirror is easy for small hands to grab onto and hold. This mirror has a sturdy plastic frame with an acrylic inset hexagonal design.

DEVELOPMENTAL AREAS

Language Development

Social Emotional Development

Cognitive Development

Physical Development

Identity

FUNNY FACES

With your baby on your lap, hold the mirror in front of both of you and make funny faces and smiles. Watch your baby respond and then do it again.

TUMMY TIME

During Tummy Time (baby lying on his stomach), place the mirror in front of your baby so he can watch his facial expressions and body movements.

MUSIC TIME

Sitting with your baby, sing lively songs using your hands and fingers while you and your baby watch in the mirror. Smiles will soon appear!

BODY PARTS

Use the mirror while pointing to and naming your baby's body parts. Start with your baby's face and then move to their hands and feet, fingers and toes.

BECKER'S